

Insects, Humans, and the Environment (EPWS 325V)

Spring and Fall semesters
Instructor: Dr. Scott Bundy

Insects are the most diverse group of organisms on the planet, and they affect every aspect of your lives. Learn about the biology and behavior of these amazing animals. Learn about insects in our food, as weapons of war, their impact on the movies and art, etc.

